

New Chores Taken on by Kennedy

By JOE HALL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy, in winning the Democratic presidential nomination here this week, set himself some high hurdles for the Senate session opening Aug. 8.

Kennedy already was intimately involved with two of the biggest measures awaiting Senate consideration—a broadening of the minimum wage law and enactment of a medical care program for the aged.

But in his rounds of delegate-hunting at the convention, he added two major chores which could prove even tougher to handle.

These were his proposals last Sunday that 2½ to 3 billion dollars of increased defense funds be voted in August, and his pledge to various farm groups to work next month for an emergency bill to boost farmers' income.

Both of these already have been widely debated in the 1960 Congress. Both appeared to be closed subjects when the legislators quit for the national convention July 3.

President Eisenhower already has signed into law the $30,000,000 defense appropriations bill. This total was 661 million dollars more than the President asked. The Senate voted an increase of about a billion dollars over his budget, but this was pared down somewhat in the conference with the House.

It would be possible for Kennedy to offer his proposal for another big increase in military funds as an amendment to some other money bill.

But Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), long a critic of Eisenhower administration defense policies, abandoned his effort to win an increase such as Kennedy is proposing when the defense money bill was up. The Missouri senator said it was "obvious there was not enough support to get the funds he considered essential."

The situation is similar on farm legislation. Kennedy's biggest task on the floor next month probably will be to handle the minimum wage bill.

He is chief sponsor of this and headed the subcommittee which originally drafted it.

This measure is ready for debate. As approved in the Labor Committee, it would raise the $1 hour to $1.25 in three steps and bring an additional five million workers under coverage of the law.

But there is considerable opposition to it in the Senate from both Republicans and Democrats. And the House last month rejected a bill similar to Kennedy's, passing only a stripped-down version.

Argentina's President Reported Out

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The Argentine news agency Telfer reported today that President Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay is preparing to resign and take his family to Switzerland. The story said he already has booked airplane passage.

There was no confirmation of the dispatch, which came from the news agency's correspondent in Posadas, an Argentine city across the border from Paraguay. It is a center for Paraguayan rebels and a hotbed of rumors.

The Argentine National Maritime Authority confirmed reports from Posadas that a boatload of armed civilians had crossed the Parana River from Argentina to Paraguay, landing at Ordonez.

The Telfer dispatch said Stroessner is yielding power as the result of a reorganization of his Colorado party. The army will take over the government to avoid violence and give Stroessner a chance to get out, the report said.

Don't Like Name

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Agust Miller petitioned Superior Court for a change in his name because, he said, Miller doesn't reflect the true spirit of his native land, Greece.

He wants it changed to Agathangelos Gregory Melissaratos.

Labor Is Unhappy on Johnson

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Some top labor union leaders say they are stunned and unhappy over the nomination of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson to be No. 2 man on the Democratic ticket. But they count on some early benefits.

Some other union officials welcomed the choice of the Senate majority leader for the vice presidential spot.

Those looking for quick gains figure that with Johnson as the running mate of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the party's presidential nominee, the chances are good of pushing through some long-wanted labor goals when Congress reconvenes in August. As Senate majority leader, Johnson wields power over legislation.

Most, if not all, such goals are contained in the platform adopted here by the Democrats.

The labor union chiefs attending the convention held a secret meeting Thursday night after the convention had ratified Kennedy's choice of Johnson to be vice presidential nominee.

The group included George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union. Reuther is an influence in the big Michigan delegation which glumly refrained from any applause when Johnson was nominated.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, said for the record he was "stunned and shocked" at the sudden selection of Johnson, the man Kennedy had beaten for the party top prize.

But not all the labor chiefs held that view. Those openly applauding included Presidents David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers and Thomas P. Kennedy of the Mine Workers. The latter said, "We think it is all right—it strengthens the ticket all over the United States."

One thing that displeased the top union men was that after working hard for Kennedy and against Johnson in the presidential nominating race, they say, they were not consulted in advance of Kennedy's announcement of Johnson as a running mate.

Sales Drop 16% in 8th Reserve Area

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Federal Reserve Bank in St. Louis reported today a 16 per cent decline in department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended July 9th from sales of the corresponding week last year.

Largest drop was reported in the Louisville area, 25 per cent. Memphis followed with a decline of 15 per cent. St. Louis was next at minus 13 per cent. Little Rock was down 11 per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities dropped a total of 20 per cent.

The bank said the decline was due to some extent to the loss of the 4th of July as a trading day.

6,000 Troops of UN Will Patrol Congo

By WILLIAM N. OATTS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

Dag Hammarskjold hopes to speed 6,000 troops to the troubled Congo within the next two weeks and keep them there for nine or ten months until order is restored.

This was reported today by diplomatic sources as the U.N. secretary general and top administrative aides moved with speed and urgency as they did in 1956 to dispatch a hastily organized emergency force to the Middle East after the Suez crisis.

African units began moving into the Congolese capital of Leopoldville Friday aboard U.S. planes, only a day after the Security Council gave Hammarskjold a go-ahead to set up the task force.

Diplomats reported Hammarskjold plans to send in about 4,000 troops by the end of next week and another 2,000 by the end of the month. Most are to be Africans.

They gave this breakdown: First week—About 1,500 troops from Morocco, 1,000 from Tunisia, and 600 each from Ethiopia, Ghana and Mali.

Second week — Troops from Liberia, Morocco and Guinea — which volunteered to send its whole army. More troops from Ethiopia also have been offered, and if the force still is not complete, troops from non-African countries will be accepted.

Mali, formerly French West Africa, is reportedly volunteering the famed Senegalese—Lall, strapping Negro soldiers who fought alongside Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Free French in World War II.

Friday night, Hammarskjold gave temporary command of the growing force to an American Negro civilian, U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche.

Hammarskjold acted to establish clear U.N. authority after the British commander of Ghana's army, Maj. Gen. Henry T. Alexander, took upon himself to stop a street riot in Leopoldville, where Bunche is Hammarskjold's contact with the Congolese government.

The ship listed 14 degrees to starboard as oil poured from the hole in the hull on the port side under tre water line.

An oil slick spread across the river between Manhattan and Queens.

Fireboats and fire apparatus on shore stood by as the oil spread.

Deputy Fire Chief Joseph Contransano said, however, that there was little danger of fire from the heavy fuel oil, not as inflammable as lighter oils such as gasoline.

No one was reported injured.

State Also May Charge Bomb Trio

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A deputy prosecutor says state charges may be filed against three men accused of violating a federal law in an abortive bombing attempt.

The FBI seized two of the men at the campus of Little Rock's Philander Smith College for Negroes early Tuesday, and arrested the third man at his home in east Arkansas.

All three are charged with illegally transporting dynamite across a state line for the purpose of damaging school property. These were the first arrests under the Civil Rights Act of 1960.

Emmett E. Miller, 44, of West Memphis, and Hugh Lynn Adams, 33, of Bassett, are free on $20,000 bonds.

Robert Lloyd Parks, 38, of West Memphis, remained in Pulaski County Jail in lieu of bond. Miller and Parks were apprehended at Philander Smith, where a box containing about 40 sticks of dynamite had been planted at an unoccupied dormitory — glass-roofed building. Adams was picked up at his Bassett home about the same time.

The dynamite did not go off.

Watching Convention

TOWANDA, Pa. (AP) — After Ernest Easton, 20, of Canyon City, Colo., and Charles Hackett, 28, of Elmira, N.Y., broke out of jail Thursday night, Sheriff Frank Detrick began questioning other prisoners about the incident.

He was unable to learn anything from them. They told him they failed to notice the departure of the pair because they were busy watching the Democratic National Convention on TV.

WYLEY J. ELLIOTT, PRINCIPAL of Camden High School and a past president of the Camden Rotary club, was the featured speaker at Rotary Friday noon. He brought the club a most interesting talk dealing with Community Service.

Johnson's Name Helps in South

By GORDON BROWN

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Many Arkansas delegates to the Democratic National Convention agreed today that the addition of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas to the party ticket will give it a big lift in their state and throughout the South.

Even before Johnson was named as running mate to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Arkansas delegates generally held that Kennedy probably would carry the Razorback state, despite a platform regarded as obnoxious.

But selection of Johnson for the vice presidential spot gives the ticket considerably more appeal, said many of the Arkansians.

"It makes a big difference," said Gailther Johnson of Dermott. "I believe the Democrats now can carry Arkansas."

F. B. Mann of Corning said he agreed and that with Johnson the ticket "is more appealing."

J. E. Dunlap, Harrison editor, said he was delighted at selection of Johnson and thought there would be no doubt that Democrats would win the state in November.

By the same token, he said, the ticket should pick up considerable support in other Southern states.

Even Fred Pickens of Newport, who earlier had expressed some doubt over Kennedy's chances of victory in the state, said the addition of Johnson undoubtedly would help and "this might be the difference."

The Arkansas delegation is to leave for home tonight, probably before Kennedy and Johnson deliver their formal acceptance speeches. It is scheduled to arrive in Arkansas Sunday.

Eisenhower Clears Desk of Bills

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower's desk is clear today of the last of the big stack of bills which Congress sent him shortly before recessing for the political conventions.

The President had 118 measures to act on when he arrived in this resort area a week ago for an extended vacation.

He acted on the final batch Thursday, signing 65 and killing two by pocket veto. Nearly all were of secondary importance.

He approved the measure extending for two years the GI home loan program for World War II veterans. It also continues a 150-million-dollar annual appropriation for veterans unable to get private loans for homes. The bill carries on the government guaranteed interest rates of 5½ per cent.

All-Negro Church Elects 2 Bishops

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Charles F. Golden, 47, and Dr. Noah W. Moore, Jr., 58 both of Philadelphia, were elected bishops yesterday by the all-Negro Central Jurisdictional Conference of the Methodist Church.

One more bishop is to be named at the conference's five-day session, which ends Sunday.

Election of the third bishop was postponed.

Dr. John W. Curry, Florence, S.C., district superintendent, and Dr. M. Lafayette Harris, president of Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark., were tied for the lead with 35 votes apiece on the sixth ballot.

Person Born Under Sign of Cancer Is Sensitive and Proudful, But Loyal

By MARY ANITA LASETER

If you were born during the time from June 22 through July 22, you were born under the sign of Cancer on the horoscope. And to these folks you could very easily nod with a solemn expression and say, "Interesting but somewhat difficult to understand."

The Cancer personality would be the object of this analysis, and it's due to the considerable reserve of such a being. Oh, this person can be loyal, magnetic, and unselfishly attractive. If he wants to be, he can also exert a fine influence on others, and though this person has a great amount of personal pride, he is not egotistical or vain.

Quite often these individuals are misunderstood and are thought to be self-centered. But this is not true. It is simply that their minds are sensitive and reflective. They are individualistic and have minds of their own. They are also straightforward, generous, and upright.

If you have a "pet project," it is a good idea to get such a person to help you. They are loyal to any cause in which they are interested and are loyal to their friends. They can be trusted with an important secret, commission, duty, or work. In fact, many people rely on them at various times.

Gaius Julius Caesar, who revised the calendar and renamed the month of July in honor of his own birthday, was a Cancer personality noted for many accomplishments. One of the most outstanding and versatile personalities in our era is Helen Keller, who fits into this category.

Outstanding Cancer personalities in various fields include: religion, Mary Baker Eddy and John Wesley; medicine, William James Mayo; sports, Jack Dempsey; entertainment, "Red" Skelton, and P. T. Barnum; politics, John Paul Jones and John Quincy Adams; inventor, Elias Howe and DuPont; philanthropist, John D. Rockefeller, Sr. and John Jacob Astor.

Writers have included such people as Anne Morrow Lindbergh, Pearl S. Buck, Nathaniel Bench, and Clement C. Moore. As for musicians, from composers of the past like Stephen Foster and George M. Cohan to present-day greats like Richard Rogers and Frank Loesser, outstanding musicians have been born under the sign of Cancer.

Both composer Jimmie McHugh and his lyricist, Dorothy Fields, were also born under this sign.

An astological character analysis of these people further shows that their feelings and pride can be easily hurt, but they hide their feelings rather than express them. They seldom hold a grudge but never forget an unkind deed or action. Good powers of reasoning, perception, and observation are all theirs. They also have good co-ordination between mind and body, and they dislike anything that can be construed as small or petty.

These practical-minded people have good reasoning powers. "The crab is the figure denoting the sign of Cancer. People born under that sign have a natural disposition for parental influence like their sign of the crab. Through sympathetic understanding they often guide others to the best of their abilities by their actions. They endeavor to be cautious and prudent in all important matters, and they have a logical philosophy of life.

Do you know some people born under the sign of Cancer?

Mrs. Brandon Files Third Libel Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Gladys Neal Brandon has filed a third $500,000 libel suit as an outgrowth of news stories on charges made against her former nursing home last July 3 by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The latest suit, filed yesterday in U.S. District Court, asks $200,000 compensatory damages and $300,000 punitive damages from the Memphis Commercial Appeal. She charged she was libeled by newspaper stories July 16, 17 and 21 which "alleged unwholesome conditions existed at the Trinity Nursing Home." She said the stories were false.

Similar suits were filed earlier against the Gazette Publishing Co. and the Arkansas Democrat.

Khrushchev Is Called 'Brawler'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—U. S. Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon, accused Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today of reducing negotiations between nations to the level of street brawls.

Respecting Austria's neutrality, Dillon did not name Khrushchev, but his implication was clear.

He told the Austrian Society for Foreign Policy: "Like you, we do not believe that international relations should be conducted by negotiations between nations through the level of street brawls, like you, we treasure hospitality as a quality too precious to be abused."

The latter reference was to Khrushchev's repeated attacks on the United States and other Western nations during his June 30-July 4 state visit to Austria, attacks which embarrassed his hosts.

Dillon, here for three days of economic and political talks, spoke of aid to underdeveloped areas as "the great challenge before us." He called on the Soviet Union to contribute a fair share to United Nations funds for these areas.

Records of Revenue Denied

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Campaign workers of a candidate for governor have been denied access to records of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' State Revenue Department.

E. E. McLees, the acting director of the department, confirmed that he would not permit two women associates of Joe C. Hardin, to look at some State Revenue Commission receipts.

McLees said today he acted in accordance with an established policy of the department not to open any order from the governor or from Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney, who is on leave to aid in the Faubus fourth term campaign.

"The records of the department are not open for curious prying by private persons," McLees said.

"The public doesn't have any reason to look at our records. We are not going to open our records to give these persons a chance to make scandal."

The Hardin camp talked about the possibility of a court suit, but it seemed unlikely that any final decision could be handed down before the July 26 Democratic primary.

McLees will speak from KATV at 6:15 and from KTHV at 10:15. Another development connected with the governor's race was filing of a million dollar libel suit at Bentonville yesterday.

Candidate Hal Millsap Jr. brought the complaint against 11 stockholders of the Millsap Oil & Gas Co., who are suing him in another action.

Millsap contended the stockholders' suit, which seeks a receivership for his Millsap Oil & Gas Co., was politically inspired to hurt him in his effort to become governor.

In the libel suit, Millsap denied all allegations made in the receivership suit, and asked $500,000 actual and $500,000 punitive damages.

U. S. Flag Burned

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Students burned a U. S. flag in an anti-American demonstration the Memphis Commercial Appeal, Thursday night at Nicaragua's National University in Leon.

Some Nicaraguan officials expressed belief the demonstration was a result of a recent decision by the American Cultural Center in Managua to remove a journal from its school it founded from the university branch in the capital.

Williams Links Faubus to Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

L. E. Williams used an alleged bomb plot as the basis for a sharp attack on Gov. Orval E. Faubus, and two other opponents on the integration issue and Joe C. Hardin, supporters held a rally.

Those political developments came last night in a televised speech by Williams, a talk and interview by Williams in Little Rock, and a Hardin meeting in Little Rock. Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett and Hal Millsap Jr., the other two candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor, were not publicly active.

Williams said he was not trying to connect Faubus directly with an attempted dynamiting of the Philander Smith College for Negroes in Little Rock. But he said Faubus was a responsible "the man who set the dynamite and lighted the fuse."

He said his purpose was "to indict Orval Faubus for creating in our state of Arkansas such lawlessness and inexcusable disregard for law and order; for encouraging rather than discouraging mob violence; for, by implication, raising the emotions in our people that actually encouraged this type of crime against our peace and happiness."

Williams mentioned only the Philander Smith incident and did not refer to a blast Tuesday which damaged a Little Rock School District warehouse.

Without referring directly to the Little Rock integration controversy, Williams charged that Faubus' activities had damaged American prestige abroad. He also contended that Faubus' accomplishments in fighting integration were small or than claimed since Faubus "admits that we have more integration in our schools than nine other Southern states combined."

Faubus, in his speech, charged that Williams, Hardin and Bennett all had varied their positions on integration. He contended Williams and Hardin were segregationists in one place and integrationists in another. Bennett, he said, first called the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation decision the law of the land, but later attacked it.

Most of the governor's talk was on his campaign theme—"I have nothing else to promise you except to continue my proven program of progress by keeping the state solvent and sound." He reviewed the various activities of his administration and cited the state's favorable debt structure in contrast to mounting debts of other states and the federal government.

Red Charge Rejected by the Belgians

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—The Belgian government "rejects with contempt" a Soviet statement charging Belgium with aggression in the Congo, a Belgian note said today.

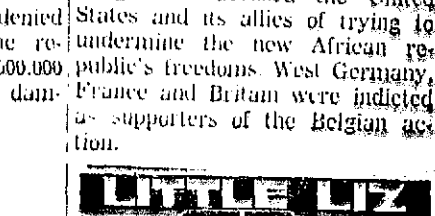

"The Belgian government and the Belgian people have learned with indignation the Soviet government attitude toward the Congo events," the note said.

"The Soviet note distorts the intentions and the facts in an odious way."

The Belgian response referred to a statement Wednesday by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko declaring the United States, Belgium and West Germany were committing aggression against the Congo. The statement was delivered to chief diplomatic representatives of North Atlantic Treaty members in Moscow.

The statement denounced Belgium for sending troops to the Congo and accused the United States and its allies of trying to undermine the new African republic's freedoms. West Germany, France and Britain were indicted as supporters of the Belgian action.

As he drove into the parking space in front of the Roche residence, Promfret Lionel came tearing out to greet him.

"Golly," exclaimed the boy, "you can fight good! That was a slick one—two you handled that drip!"

"He led with his right," Artemus said depreciatively, amused by the light of hero worship in the boy's eyes.

Mr. Roche spoke, not sharply, but with the sort of voice that compelled obedience. "Subside," he said, and then to Artemus, "Come back and set. What'll it be? Eh?"

"Scotch and ditch water," Artemus responded.

Mrs. Roche, who seemed scarcely older than her daughter, advanced with extended hand, and Artemus felt the sincerity of her welcome.

She indicated a tray of libbites on the table. "We'll eat out here, I think. I can't say I wholly approve of gentlemen knocking each other down," she said. "But you seem to have given general satisfaction."

"Honeste turpitudine est pro causa bona," said Mr. Roche casually in Latin, much to Artemus' amusement. It caught him off balance.

bet I got it!" "Not with your mouth full," his mother chided.

"Him," said Pomfret Lionel, pointing at Artemus. "What he is is an undercovey!"

"You must have come in late," Jack said loftily. "We spotted that at the beginning of the picture. Anyhow, you're rude. We shouldn't discuss Mr. Baldwin while he's here. It's more elegant to talk about him behind his back."

"If," announced Pomfret Lionel, "I knew what he was up to, I'd help him."

yourself time to rest (center). This wise hostess stretches out with dampened cotton pads on her eyes to aid in relaxation. She has set her hair and covered it with a pretty nylon cap. She needs only brush out her set to be ready. After dinner, take time out on the terrace, patio or porch (right) for a chat with your friends. Serve after-dinner coffee and place a dish of chocolates on the table as the perfect end to a pleasant meal. You'll have a pleasant time.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: I am a faithful reader of your column. It is surprising how many people are afraid to talk to their mothers. I am 11 and girls of my age have many problems. When I do, I go straight to my mother. Some people don't go to their mothers and anything could happen. Please print this for it might help some timid people. —Joyce

Dear Joyce: Good for you—and your mother. The time will come when you'll marry and leave her. But if your relationship continues as sound as it is now, you need never be separated intellectually or spiritually.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: My parents are getting in the age when losing them is possible. It worries me so that I feel like crying. If something ever happens to them, I know life will never be worth much to me. I am married and try to see them often but it does not seem often enough. We can never have any children so we cannot even give them grandchildren. They have given so much, not in money, but in love. Am I too soft? I know it happens to us all, but I doubt if I can take it. —Nervous Wreck

Dear Nervous Wreck: Within all of us is an untapped reservoir of courage to call upon in an emergency. When the time comes for your parents to go, this hidden strength will see you through, as it has countless others. But—don't presuppose too much. Enjoy the present. Justify your parents' love and belief in you by being your best self. To worry over what may happen is a futile and selfish pastime, unworthy of a mature human being. You owe it to your husband as well as your parents, to be cheerful. Remember to live. If you can't have children, why not adopt one?

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Reds Dislike Johnson

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass said today that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson is regarded by American Negroes "as the chief saboteur of effective civil rights, and in trade union circles he is regarded as biased against labor."

In a dispatch from Los Angeles, the Soviet press agency said the common yet I still care deeply for him. My parents say I should divorce him as the dishonest life he wants to lead will affect the children.

He breaks all promises, knows everybody but has no friends because he uses people for what he can get out of them.

Now we've separated again. I don't want to go on living this way yet divorce seems so final. My husband has his good qualities—he's good to the kids and when he has money, spends it on the kids and me. I want my children to be proud of their father. I'm sure if he had an honest, good-paying job he'd be different. I need advice badly. Help me. —Mrs. G.

Dear Mrs. G.: Not having your husband's prison record before me makes it difficult to advise you. Look up the judges who sentenced him. See his probation officer. Tell him that, despite your husband's disappointing past, you still love him and hope, if possible, to make a go of your marriage. Ask them, in view of his jail sentences, if they believe it possible for him to reform.

AMERICA AFLOAT

INSTRUCTION COURSES ARE AVAILABLE FOR BOATMEN BY WM. TAYLOR MOUTON Editor, Popular Boatman's (Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

New boat buyers may soon be able to purchase a "howabout" and receive free lessons on how to use it.

This year the boating beginner has a number of new sources of instruction.

Time was when pleasure boating was supposed to be learned by doing. The youngster headed out in a rowboat and unless the oars drifted away he was likely to get safely home again. Advanced training in power and sailboat handling came from older boatmen who had started out the same way.

Now, however, youngsters and adults alike may buy a fast runabout and roar off at high speed. So far, this has not caused a marked increase in accidents. Instead, beginners waste many hours on the water as they cautiously bump their way through harbors until they get the feel of the boat, learning the hard way.

Fortunately, today's boats are easy to steer and control, but a fast runabout racing through an anchorage or a slow sailboat practicing in the middle of a narrow channel shows every boatman near by that here is another beginner.

Classes may now be taught by boat dealers, clubs, schools and other interested organizations, thanks to the Outboard Boating Club of America, an industry trade group which has prepared what they call an "Outboard Seamanship Course Kit."

Designed to show an amateur instructor how to teach beginners, the free kit should encourage dealers particularly to be certain that every customer has been shown boat-handling.

In the kit are an instructor's manual, course outlines for three lessons and information about how to obtain training films, pamphlets and digest of boating laws.

Interested groups may receive information about the instruction kit from the Outboard Boating Club, while the individual boatman may obtain a free booklet on boat-handling by writing the O.B.C., 307 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

Lessons given by other groups are available in many parts of the country. Boating is no longer a seacoast and Great Lakes sport. Many winning sail and power skippers come from inland waterways. The United States series of free courses in piloting Power Squadrons, with their series of free courses in piloting now have more than 280 branches in the country.

The United States Coast Guard Auxiliary is very active. In addition to seamanship classes usually held during the winter the Auxiliary is offering courtesy examinations in which a C.C.A. Philadelpha 34, 48, 415 154

Both required and recommended safety equipment.

Watching this examiner can provide a valuable short course in how to check the condition of a pleasure craft. Your local post office or a letter to U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary in Washington can provide you with the address of a U.S.C.G.A. flotilla.

HEAR THESE WORDS

...from an old Guide Book. It says we are travelers on the way. And since we pass this way but once, we want good directions. Through the centuries, long lines of tall, serious-thinking men have cried, "Which way shall I take?" Well, here is a man who found it. Then, won't you hear the challenge? It says that ultimately men want the rewards of one who walks a straight and narrow path, but few there be that earn them. It speaks to all, "Keep My Commandments," but few there be that keep them. No one questions the brevity of this book's directions. Its commands come with all the authority of Heaven and earth, from God to man... to you. Centuries of human experience declare its words to be true. Your own soul recognizes the importance of its teachings. Then why not accept its challenge? Make all this a personal matter. Straighten up your life. Use religious ethics in your business dealings and start going to church to prove you mean it!

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support his program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
